From Washington.

[From the Philadelphia Inquirer.]

General Naglee, in command at Yorktown, has issued orders for the burning of several buildings—including one mill—in retaliation for having his pickets fired upon. A considerable amount of forage has been procured up the Peninsula in a late reconnoissance.

We learn that the trial of Gen. Griffin, on charges preferred by General Pope, will be taken up immediately after the case of General Porter is disposed of.

The orders to give no passes to Aquia Creek, except to army officers, or those connected with the army in an official capacity, is a serious inconvenience to correspondents in pursuit of knowledge under difficulties.

Assistant Secretary of War Watson has gone to New York.

Assistant Secretary of War Tucker has gone to Philadelphia.

Gen. Meigs is still busy with his report and estimates for the coming year.

Very few members or Senators are arriving now, but they are expected en masse after Thanksgiving.

Professor Lowe left for the army of the Potomac to-day.

Mrs. G. n. Burnside is here.

Gen. Sibley takes Pope's command while he is here on Porter's court-martial.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The opinion gains considerable ground here that there is no intention of a move being made upon Richmond from the present position of the Federal army. The undertaking is being regarded as one almost altogether fraught with difficulty, if not totally void of beneficial results. It is very probable that the move against the Confederates will be made, via the Cotton States, by some of the various expeditions, both land and naval, now being fitted out. The destiny of Gen. Banks' expedition is being kept a profound secret, although Texas is most probably the territory which will be occupied by him.

Great preparations are being made for the assembling of Congress on next Monday.

From Harper's Ferry.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 25.—A special dispatch to the American, from Harper's Ferry, states that Gen. Kelly yesterday sent out a scout from Chew Creek, who captured a Confederate cavalry picket of twelve men with horses and accoutrements, within four miles of Winchester. Prisoners say that Jackson has started with his entire army force for Richmond, by way of Front Royal, leaving only a regiment of cavalry at Winchester, instructed to follow in a few days. The probability is that the Federal forces will occupy Winchester in a short time, when the work of reconstructing the Baltimore and Ohio railroad will commence, to be completed there in twenty days.

Late from Falmouth, Va.

[Dispatch to the Washington Chronicle.]

FALMOUTH, VA., Nov. 25—2 o'clock P. M.—You have doubtless had the usual quantity of rumors about an attack on Fredericksburg. If so, they have no foundation in fact. Up to this hour everything has been quiet.

WANT OF SHOES.—The Richmond Enquirer having stated that the requisitions upon the Quartermaster for shoes had all been honored, Gov. Wise enters the following protest: BRIGADE HEADQ'R'S., CHAFFIN'S FARM, } November 15, 1862. }

Your number of yesterday heads an editorial, "The Shoe question." You complain of the complaints of the Whig. It had not inquired about the facts. You had. And you say: "In an answer to our inquiries, we were assured, and so stated publicly, that the requisitions upon the Quartermaster for shoes had all been honored." Do you mean upon the Quartermaster General. Of whom did you inquire. I affirm that the assurance given by you was incorrect. My men are suffering for shoes; requisitions were made; the reply of the Quartermaster General, Col. Myers, was, "Let them suffer." Your obedient servant, HENRY A. WISE, Brigadier General.

The Inquirer explains that it didn't mean Wise's army, but another army—the army of Northern Virginia with Gen. Lee.

Mayor Delph, of Louisville, has issued a proclamation to the inhabitants of the city, in which he speaks of the unfaltering loyalty of Louisville and Kentucky to the Union, and complains of the flagrant violations of the laws of that state and nation perpetrated by some of the Federal forces. As Mayor of the city, a great many letters have been addressed him by military officers, abusing him for enforcing the laws of the commonwealth and of the city.

The London Weekly Record, in a recent issue, says:—How strange to think that all our daily journals are absolutely given away, far below cost price by the advertisers. Excepting for the circulation, which insures plenty of these, all our daily journals would pay better with fewer copies printed. We could not buy for the money the very paper on which they are printed."

The Washington Republican says that the fall of Richmond—even could it be effected—will not settle the present difficulties.

LIBERTY HALL.—The engagement of the two beauties the Misses Mortimer and Pennoyer, shows with what diligence the managers strive to deserve the patronage of the public, and they certainly ought to reap a corresponding harvest. This evening the famous "Gipsy's Lay" will be repeated in addition to which Dick Parker and the entire strength of the Canterbury Company, will appear in a programme abounding with wit, fun and eccentricities.
